

I don't like this game anymore But I'm in all the same Now I'm learning to lose And they say that that's halfwar I'm banging my head on a wal

And all I get is pain, pain Wish that I had written those letters I'm banging my head on a wall There's no way in, there's no way in

are you out there

The morning's always come anyway

The bluest sky seems out of place

And I can still picture your face

Until today

Wish that I had written those letters I meant to write The days between have flown by

Never listened very well To what they say

Are you out there Are you listening to me I wish I could see Are you out there Watching over me Are you out there

Back and forth in front of the door

You know so well There's never any good time to tell It's like the rain was waiting for You feel it on your face as it fall It says it all for you

You don't have to say a word to them They've already heard I'm on my way, never going back

The sunrise on the highway reminds me No one told me I could cut, run Seeing everything gone I'm going somewhere no one can find me

I leave today
I'm finally making Now those words have nowhere to I'm on my way

They know

Ten long years I gave that place I'll walk away, never going back No more tears I'm gonna waste

That everything's changed the hardest part

The photo on the wall

And so you'd never know

Smiles just the same

Just look forward - think about tomorrow Spent a day lost in my head Don't leave room for sorrow Drove away, never going back Own this choice, it's all yours Going nowhere - long highway There's nothing here to mourn Really don't care, never going back No one knows what dreams may come

Someone told me I was broker Took away the rope My life was hanging from halfmissing just me how sleps array Sometimes someone says your name in passir I try not to give away my disdain You were so shy and funny

Out from under me The stand I should've taken from the start

Say goodbye and take it in

Stop a sigh and fake a grin

When all is said

What's done is done

And can't be undone

Gets to take away from

All the things I've done

All the things I've worked for

I'm leaving by the front door

So they can watch me go

I'll decide my own score

No one gets to say I'm broken

One last look before I'm gone away

Who decided letting go should be Be the hardest part

> I guess I should've known Someone like you would take me for a fool I guess that's how it goes You were so shy and funny

I closed my eyes when you started crowing and strutting

Is that all you are now

What makes you so great

Who are you to say anything about me

Maybe you should take two steps away

Light years separate the past and future

Why I stayed no longer matters

I've stopped looking for the best in you, de

I'll walk away right now from this disaster

I close my eyes, you're there in front of m

That's all you are now

Now I can move and there's no time to wast

Here in the dark now I finally am free Just because something could be wors From all the pressure you're putting on m Doesn't mean it's right Here in the dark I can finally begin to see Even though nothing's really wrong Too many years I just took what you said I can't sleep at night Let you decide, let you fill up my head I've tried too many years With all these things that I know you believed, and ye

It's hard to swallow all those

Half truths that you

Tried to feed to me

You told me I was only

As good as you could be

But I finally realized I am better off just me

With nothing to show And no one to hold There's all I ever wanted

To end up here

It's not so bad

And all I've gotten instead

It's just that half is missing

Nothing else can run

For the smoking gun

Did I want it too much

It comes out the same

With no one to blame

It's just that half is missing

Fairytale endings all aside

Shouldn't there be more

Is what you went looking for

There's no turning the clock

Back to the start
So whisper goodbye
To all the dreams that died

Than just pretending that what you got

Or not enough

It's not so bad

Something is broken just enough

Split it wide open, look inside

So much to do so I'm off on the endless chase

Of all the dreams I let slide

Starting today I'm on my way

While you tried to

I'll stand on my own

Turn me into you the lonely ones Sometimes things you say just break my heart There's nothing I can do or I can say 'Cause it's not my place Sometimes I wish you'd let down your guard

Though I never would presume to know

What it's like for you, if you explained

And I wish I could share your sorrow

Maybe we're cut from the same cloth

But that's not my choice There are moments when you seem so sad, my love

Or I could be onto something Maybe we're the lonely ones, me and yo For some unseen reason

HESTRIC - CONDEN - CARROLLING & CHIMA

Maybe we're just the same at heart In the moments when you're ready to give up You could let me share your sorrow anywhere everywhere Never thought I'd see so much Is someone that you shouldn't

Of you in myself Never can I do enough To repay your help You are smiling in my dreams You are watching over me You are right by my side anywhere, everywhere I g

Did you think you'd see a time

Mom. Dad. Jeremy. Christopher. Grandma, for all the lesson Kate, Laura, Lindsay, Lisa, Julia, Steph. Chad. Dennis. Brian. Max. Steve. Taylor. Matt. Tim. Johanna, Andy R., and Andy H. the other side of the world

Watch the sun set over the Pacific Ocea

Take a picture to show to everyone back home It's hard to point to what's the matte With heaven reflected in that wate

There are moments when it seems you've given up It almost feels like home

It's all unfamiliar territory

If only I weren't here alone Drive the highway, get lost in a small town Spend the morning going where nobody's arou Stop to wonder what is missing The only problem is all that distance It's surprising when you find

Turn your back and turn the key in the ignition

Head back where you thought you knew the score www.alisonwood.com - info@alisonwood But it's all unfamiliar territory

All these things could be

Did you ever lose your mind Or your faith in me

You are talking in my head I'll carry with me what you said

Open up to what might come your way

And I wish I could share your sorrow Maybe I'm the crazy one, that's nothing new > Climb the mountain, see all the lights shining below Dunkin Donuts, World of Liquor, the store down the street, Walk the city 'til it gets dark and gets too co Discmakers, the CR-V, the MBTA, Clint Eastwood, Ben Folds, Andy Happel strings, track 3 Look for someplace warm and co. Richard Marx, and the squirrel handed squirrel.

Standing on the other side of the world

Watch the sun set over the Pacific Ocean

Standing on the other side of the worl music and lyrics by Alison Wood arranged and produced by Chad Perrone except track 4, arranged and produced by Taylor Barefoot with additional production by Chad Perrone engineered and mixed by Dennis Carroll, 6media A\ mastered by Jeff Lipton at Peerless Mastering, Boston, MA quality control engineer: Maria Rice art direction by Abby Getman, Go Go Getman Des That the one you miss the most photos of Alison by Laura Ayd very special thanks to all my family and friends, and everyone who has taught me, influenced me, challenged me, and helped me.

all songs copyright Alison Wood, 2007

Alison Wood vocals; piano, tracks 1, 2, 6, 10

. Chad Perrone acoustic guitar, tracks 1, 2, 4, 7, 9; electric guitar, tracks 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8; percussion, tracks 3, 5, 8, 9; organ, track 1; piano, track 5, 7

Lisa Sansouci backing vocals, track 1

Kate Glynn tambourine, track 1 backing vocals, tracks 2, 3

 Ø Going Nowhere 3:09

Are You Out There 4:56

✓ The Hardest Part 4:32

5 Two Steps Away 3:09

Half Missing 3:34

Just Me 3:25

The Lonely Ones 3:40

Anywhere/Everywhere 3:11

10 The Other Side of the World 3:36

www.alisonwood.com © P 2007 Alison Wood.